

Project Manager – Transportation

Seattle, Wash.

Small team. Big impact. With high-profile new projects already in the door and more in the pipeline, our downtown transportation team is moving Seattle forward. Are you ready to go? Our group size means you'll not only make your mark on the city, you'll be a significant part of the team.

Who we are

With great projects and a fun-loving team, SCJ was named as both one of the nation's fastest growing and best places to work last year. We specialize in civil engineering, transportation planning & design, environmental & urban planning, landscape architecture & design, and public outreach. Our mantra "Anticipate. Envision. Create" captures our work environment and project approach.

What you'll be doing

- Work that keeps our region moving. Our transportation team specializes in corridor design, highway framework studies and IJRs, signalized and roundabout intersection design, downtown transportation revitalization projects, roadway/highway design, transit design, and stormwater design.
- Growing the business. We're looking for someone who can work with current and potential clients to find and secure new projects.
- Leading a team of engineers and project managers. Your mentorship will help guide Seattle's newest engineers into careers that make an impact well into the future.
- Learning from some of the best! We're proud to have some of the top transportation professionals in the country right here at SCJ. From national program designers to statewide award winners to international roundabout experts, you'll learn from the best in the business.
